PROPER LANGUAGE

- Using the correct pronouns at someone's request is a way of validating that we all have the right to live our truth, to share our truth, and to be granted safety, respect and dignity in doing so.
- Referring to someone by the pronouns they've requested is a way to show someone respect for who they are.
- Here is some examples of Non-binary(gender neutral)pronouns that may be preferred:

They

Them

Theirs

RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

Discrimination:

Is when a person experiences negative treatment or impact because of an actual or perceived connection to one of the 17 grounds that are protected under the Ontario Human Rights code.

- first-hand or by association
- failing to accommodate needs on basis of protected grounds
- allowing discrimination to continue when those in positions of authority know or should know it exists
- even if no one objects to the behavior or circumstance
- direct and obvious or indirect and subtle
- isolated events or entrenched in an organization's culture & policies
- even if participation in the behaviour is widespread

2. Ask for assistance and support to the best of their ability from the MHA when experiencing discrimination or when requiring a related accommodation.
3. Work together with the MHA to find appropriate accommodations to meet code-related needs.

ACCOMMODATIONS

- Special arrangements are called “accommodations”. Accommodations create opportunities for people to do their job, participate in an activity or access a service they would not have been able to otherwise. Someone’s need for an accommodation may be related to a protected code ground.
- A person who is deaf, for example, may require a sign language interpreter as an accommodation to help them do part of their job. In hockey, a person may have a need for extra privacy when changing before and after playing. This need may be related to gender identity, gender expression or to other code grounds such as disability or religion.

ACCOMMODATIONS

- Players make a request to the Minor Hockey Association that they would like an accommodation within the Dressing Room Policy.
- Minor Hockey Association considers the request in confidence with the individual seeking the accommodation.
- There is a difference between a right and an accommodation. A right is something provided in law and an accommodation is something that can be requested by a Player that is experiencing a barrier to participation.

ACCOMMODATIONS

- The Ontario Hockey Federation utilizes the Hockey Canada co-ed dressing room policy, when co-ed dressing room situations exist at the Atom and below levels, 5-10 years of age, provided participants in a co-ed situation either arrive in full equipment or wear at a minimum gym shorts or long underwear as well as a full t-shirt (no tank tops) all of which must be in good condition and without holes/tears.

If accommodations are not viable at this age, please refer to the previous slides on accommodations.

CONFIDENTIALITY

- Once the MHA receives a written request for a code-related accommodation, it is important to make the individual feel safe and comfortable.
- A Player making a request are entitled to a confidential time and space to discuss possible solutions, and that they may bring a friend or relative with them for support if they wish.
- Confidentiality means that sharing of information is done by the Player in all circumstances. It is not your information to share even to the Player's parents.
